

All users of Eminence Dance Academy must strictly follow the EDA conduct, without exception, not abiding to the rules set out could lead to dismissal from Eminence Dance Academy. Allowing safe dance practice and a positive environment for all our users and the community around us. To keep our standard high our teachers, follow the EDA teachers code of conduct with regular team support and training.

TEACHERS CODE OF CONDUCT:

Inspire, motive and support each individual to reach their full potential with a safe, happy and stimulating environment. Remain fair and respectful. Regularly update training and dance curriculums, promoting the value of progression and good teaching standards. Inspire, motivate, and support each individual to reach their full potential, within a safe,

CODE OF PROFESSIONAL PRACTICE OF MISS EMILIE WOAN ARAD RAD RTS, AISTD:

Leading by example, with continual assessments of myself and my students through a mixture of teaching methods (variations of visual, verbal, kinaesthetic), positive goal setting and feedback. Remain up to date with any developments in the dance profession and attend annual CPDs specifically for Acrobatic Arts, RAD, PBT & ISTD syllabi and their varied curriculums. Therefore, promoting the value of progression and achievement. All lessons will be planned to build on current attributes and level of ability. Considering the students physical, motor and psychological abilities by using diverse teaching methods to suit a range of learners, including those with Additional Learning Needs (ALN) whilst implementing the principles of fairness, equality and respect. Safeguarding of the student's well-being is of utmost importance, treating all students, and their families, with dignity and mutual respect, welcoming all faiths and beliefs. Promoting respectful and courteous behaviour by all in my studio and taking appropriate disciplinary actions when needed, to maintain a positive environment with students' best interests placed first.

When associating and connecting with Eminence Dance Academy you are including in the following expectations. All staff, students, parents/guardians and extended family members under Eminence Dance Academy's instruction will adhere to the same ethos and respectfulness of all associates by following the members code of conduct:

MEMBERS CODE OF CONDUCT:

Being kind, supportive and courteous to others at all times, always mindful of the building in use and its surrounding property, neighbours and other members of the public. With utmost importance of respectful language and positive influence around the students in our care. To keep standards high we expect discipline across the academy from etiquette to uniform from all students. We promise to teach to the highest standards and expect equal respect from both students and parents no matter your background (race, gender, religion, identity etc.) by keeping to the academy's terms and policies laid out.